
Title: Bloodguard

Author: Ian Nottingham

From the time of my turning over 1200 years ago, I was bred to be one thing and one thing only, a soldier.

I have led many warriors in many alliances to victories against unspeakable numbers.

As Sherriff of Trinsic I and my warriors fought off daily attacks on our borders. The city was never taken from us.
In Bregan D'Aerthe, a Drow mercenary clan, I became the first Vampire to become a leader amongst Drow. Again I led them to many victories.

My loyalties have never been questioned by any who know me. Once I declare my loyalty to a clan, I will defend it to the fullest.

I have never forsaken my brethren, no matter how young, nor shall I.

I have led my own clan in the past, and learned quickly that I am not a Sire, I am a warrior, a killer, a guardian. I am not a politician.
I am confident in my abilities. I am your Bloodguard. I declare my loyalty to the Cappacodians with my blood.

Respectfully,

in blood

Lord Ian Nottingham
